ANTIOCH SHOWS DECREASE IN TAXATION RATE

Increases Are Shown by 24 to 40 Lake County School Districts

While 24 of the 40 school districts in Lake county have announced increases of from 2 to 71 cents in the 1938 tax rates, Antioch shows a decrease of 23 cents, from $6.13 in the 1937 rate, to $5.90, for 1938.

Libertyville had the largest rate increase, 71 cents, jumping from $5.85 for 1937 to $6.86 for 1938. Lake Zurich showed the biggest decrease, 44 cents, dropping from $4.72 to $4.28. Round Lake Beach holds the distinction of an unchanged rate, $3.49 for each $100 property valuation.

Village Candidates Circulate Petitions

Petitions bearing the names of E. O. Hawkins, J. B. Drom and Otto S. Klass as candidates for village trustees are being circulated in Antioch this week. Trustees Hawkins and Drom are candidates for re-election, while Klass is a candidate to fill the post of Robert Wilton who is retiring from office after having served on the board for four years.

Wilton was first elected in 1935 for a two year term under the old law, and was re-elected two years ago along with other trustees for a four year term. Following the election, under the provisions of the new law, the six trustees elected drew lots to determine which should serve for four years and which for two years. Wilton, Drom and Hawkins drew the short terms.

In the future all trustees will be elected for four years, with three members of the six-member board coming up for election every alternate year.

The last day for filing petitions will be March 14, and the last day for withdrawals on March 20. Election is to be held on April 18, with polls open from 6 a. m. to 5 p. m., according to notices posted today by Village Clerk R. T. Maric.

Funeral services were held this morning at 10 o'clock for Joseph J. Pachay, Antioch, who died suddenly Monday evening.

Pachay, who was a millwright and operated a small portable mill, had set out to work Monday, but returned home at about 3 o'clock in the afternoon complaining that he felt ill. He passed away at about 7 o'clock in the evening. Death was ascribed to heart trouble.

He was born 57 years ago in Veszprem, Hungary, coming to this country at an early age.

Surviving are his wife, Karoline; two daughters, Helen and Irene, and two sons, Carl and Joseph. He is also survived by two brothers, both of whom live in Chicago.

The funeral was held at the home, with interment in Mt. Carmel cemetery following.

GUN CLUB ENJOYS MOTION PICTURES

Ladies Are Guests for the Meeting Held at H. S. Monday

The "King" salmon derby in Nova Scotia, fishing in northern streams, and the work of "Ducks Unlimited" in Saskatchewan and Manitoba were featured in exciting motion pictures enjoyed by the 75 members of the Antioch Rod and Gun club and their lady guests at a meeting Monday evening in the high school.

Plans for organizing a crow hunt and a fox hunt some time soon were considered. Both crows and foxes are a menace to upland game birds, it was pointed out.

The motion pictures of Ducks Unlimited showed the work the organization has been carrying on in cooperation with the Canadian government in reclaiming for natural conservation purposes swamps that were drained during the World War to provide more wheat acreage.

In the salmon derby pictures, scenes showing last year's champion and the runner-up as they took their catches provided much interest.

LIMIT ANTIOCH COUNTRY FAIR ENTRY RANGE

Eligibility to Be Restricted to Lake and Adjoining Counties

Twenty members of the Antioch Country Fair association, including the small group of enthusiasts that has been in control for many years, voted in a meeting Tuesday evening to limit entries this year to residents of Lake and adjoining counties.

The decision to limit entries was made in the hope that it would stimulate more local interest.

While the limitation would restrict entries for competition to Lake and nearby counties, it would not necessarily exclude non-competitive displays, such as an exhibit from another state, friends of the fair have pointed out.

Re-Elect All Officers

At the meeting, held in Antioch Township High school, officers of the fair who served last year were re-elected for another term.

They are D. H. Minto, Antioch, president; E. W. King, Wadsworth, vice-president; Mrs. Ralph McGuire, Lake Villa, secretary, and Bert Edwards, Antioch, treasurer.

E. E. Elsbury, Gurnee, and H. A. Tillotson, Antioch, were re-elected directors. Earl H. Kane was chosen as a new member of the board of directors.

ANTIOCH COUPLES HURT IN CRASH

Dickeys and Hostetters Are Recovering from Auto Injuries

Two Antioch couples were badly injured Sunday morning when the automobile in which they were riding was struck head-on by another car on route 59, about one-half mile north of the Diamond Lake road.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Dickey and Mr. and Mrs. Charley Hostetter were driving to Oak Park in the Dickeys' automobile to visit relatives when a northbound car driven by Duke Eyre of Chicago collided with them. Eyre was traveling in the southbound lane at the time while passing other cars.

All four occupants of the Dickey car were taken to Cindell Memorial hospital for treatment and a warrant charging Eyre with reckless driving was sworn out before Justice of the Peace Eugene Lanris of Libertyville.

Mrs. Dickey, who had a broken rib and numerous bruises was believed the most severely injured of the four. She remained at the hospital until Tuesday, when she was brought to her home.

Still Receiving Care

All four occupants of the car suffered from bruises, sprains and shock and are still undergoing treatment. Mr. Hostetter, who is employed at the Ford garage, has been obliged to remain absent from work this week. Eye-glasses worn by both Mr. and Mrs. Dickey were broken, and their automobile was badly damaged.

Eyre is said to have escaped injury, although his car was slightly damaged. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Pfeifle, nephew and daughter, respectively, of the two families, whom the Dickeys and Hostetters were going to visit Sunday, were notified of the accident and spent Monday in Antioch. Mrs. Pfeifle has also been here Wednesday and today.

Lake Villa Recluse Dies of Heart Attack

A heart ailment was believed to be the cause of the death of Joseph Coon, 75, of Lake Villa, who was found dead in his home on Cleveland road late Monday afternoon.

Coon, who had been under a doctor's care for the past six years, had lived alone in the home for nearly 32 years. The body was discovered by August Tanner when the latter was delivering a paper at about 5 p. m. Tanner summoned Clara Sherwood, G. P. Manzer and Al Boehm, neighbors.

The body was lying beside a stove, of which the doors were open, and it was thought that Coon had been cleaning the stove before setting a fire when he was stricken.

He is survived by his wife, who is living at Elgin, and a son, Arthur Coon, of Waukegan.

What Will They Use for Money?

Down in the South, officials are beginning to worry seriously about what they are going to use for money—because of the rapidly with which the Tennessee Valley Authority is absorbing public utilities and other private property and removing it from the tax rolls. According to Walter Stokes, Jr., State Tax Commissioner of Tennessee, the situation has reached the "critical stage." He estimates that his state may lose close to $1,000,000 in tax revenue this year. And cities and counties may lose as much as $2,000,000 more.

As a result, there is a growing movement underway in that state (and others as well) to tax publicly-owned electric properties. Governor Browning has recommended to the legislature that these properties pay the "same taxes in all respects as those under private operation." The Tennessee County Judges' Association has voted unanimously to "seek legislation to permit the state and counties to tax electric properties taken over by municipalities for distribution of TVA power." And a number of counties have individually taken steps toward this end. And why shouldn't they? Operating a power plant for private customers is a commercial business, not a function of government for all the people.

Thus, little by little, the illusion of the blessings that will flow from socialization of the nation's utilities is being dissipated. A man isn't going to be long pleased by a reduction of a few cents in his power bill when he discovers that it means an increase of dollars in his tax bill. The private utilities pay up to 20 percent of all their revenues (gross, not net) in taxes, and in every state the money received from them amounts to a considerable percentage of total revenues received from all sources. When government goes into business, this money is lost—and the taxpayer holds the sack.

A Menace to Free Labor

American labor should consider the condition of workers in countries where private industry has been swallowed by government.

What would happen to a group of laboring men in Russia or Germany if they called a strike in a government-owned industry? If news reports are correct, their shirt would be short, for to strike against the government in those countries is treason.

The politician who advocates public ownership of industry in the United States, on the theory that in some miraculous manner this will give the people some untold blessing, is merely camouflaging a move toward the iron-handed control and limitation of individual rights which is an inescapable part of socialistic, communistic, or fascistic government.

It's not a pretty picture for free labor in the United States, if it looks ahead to see what its position would be under government ownership of industries. It's one thing for labor, organized or unorganized, to deal with a private employer. It is quite a different thing to deal with government.

You can negotiate on wage matters with a private employer, call a strike against him if you aren't satisfied, and still have the police and court protection of the government. But when you are working for government, and strike against government—particularly when government becomes all powerful through control of production and distribution—you are helpless. A strike then means revolution.

Labor should be the staunchest supporter of private enterprise in its fight against the growing menace of state socialism.

What Emergency?

If there is an alarming emergency in the relief situation, as Mr. Roosevelt claims in asking Congress to appropriate an additional $150,000,000 for the remainder of the fiscal year, the record does not reveal it.

Congress already has thoroughly surveyed the relief situation. On the basis of what it discovered, it reduced Mr. Roosevelt's demand for supplemental funds by $150,000,000, which he now asks it to restore by special act. Meanwhile there has been no critical change in the relief situation, and a study of the fact hardly convinces one that Mr. Roosevelt is right in anticipating a serious emergency in the spring.

Red Herring?

All this whooping it up for "national defense" leaves Rolla Clymer, of El Dorado, cold just now. He adds: We might feel differently about it if we weren't sure that it is administration-inspired propaganda to get the public's mind off its internal troubles—and to keep on spending like a $14-a-day tool-dresser in the Silk Shirt Era.—Greenleaf, Kansas, Sentinel.

President Roosevelt has received the advice and consent of the Senate in the matter of Roberts' judicial appointment. Advice came from 72 senators and consent from nine.—Boston Transcript.

The President is trying to make peace between the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O. If he succeeds he might try out his system on the Democratic party.

The Supreme Court got three strikes on the National Labor Relations Board the other day. It's about time now for Congress to call for a new batter.

PETER DELIVERED FROM PRISON

LESSON TEXT—Acts 12:5-17.
GOLDEN TEXT—Peter was made without ceasing of the church unto God for him.—Acts 12:5.

"Prayer Changes Things," says a popular motto. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of," is another much-used quotation. Still another is, "Satan trembles when he sees the weakest saint upon his knees." We say the words, but how often we fail to practice the truth. Prayer seems to be such an interesting topic for discussion, and yet so seldom do we really pray. The teaching of God's Word and the testimony of thousands of His children down through the centuries, yes, even our own experience, demonstrates that the greatest power for good that we can wield is prayer. God give us grace to use it in our daily walk and life and for His glory!

I. Prayer for a Prisoner (v. 5).

The members of the early Church knew what to do with their problems and troubles. They prayed. The same solution is available today. Whatever else we may do by way of planning and working, it must follow prayer if we are to succeed. We really cannot do anything else until we have prayed.

Troubles may be a blessing if they drive us to our knees. Peter was in jail for the gospel's sake. Prayer had been made for his deliverance, and yet the last night had come and he was still not free. However, his friends prayed on. God had given them faith to believe and the conviction that they should continue in prayer for him. Under such circumstances we must never cease to pray, even though the very "zero hour" has come. "Man's extremity is God's opportunity."

II. Deliverance by God (vv. 6-10).

God does answer prayer. Some presumably brilliant folk would have us believe that prayer is merely a subjective experience, a sort of spiritual exercise, which does the individual who prays certain good, but never reaches God or changes things. How would they explain what happened to Peter, and the hundreds of thousands of other definite prayer answers throughout the centuries?

The answer in Peter's case was so remarkable that even he thought he was only dreaming. Apparently God gave His persecuted servant sweet sleep that night, while He kept Peter's friends alert in prayer. But when Peter found himself outside the prison he knew something had happened.

There are many interesting things to note in this incident. Observe that what Peter could do for himself God did not do, but what Peter could not do, God's angel did. Note also that when God works, the spiritually unenlightened know nothing of it. The guards did not know what had happened until morning. Consider also that the angel took Peter as far as the open street, then left him to himself. God may meet a special need by miraculous intervention, but that does not mean that from then on we are to live by constant miracles. There are many practical and precious spiritual lessons which we may learn from these verses.

III. Results of Answered Prayer (vv. 11-17).

God does not answer prayer or perform any of His mighty works simply to make people marvel or to add to someone's comfort. It is true that He does thus manifest His loving consideration for us, and that men do marvel at His greatness, but there are other purposes in the workings of His grace and power.

In this case the first result was the freedom of His witness. He had been in prison and that was for God's glory; now he was to be free, and that too was to be for His glory.

Then, His deliverance was a great testimony, not only to those who were praying in the upper room, but to God's people down through the ages. Answered prayer is one of the great testimonies to the Christian faith.

Fellowship resulted from Peter's liberation. He went at once to meet with his fellow believers. Although he did not tarry long with them, he did share with them his remarkable experience, and admonished them to tell the others. If God has done something for you, share the good news with your brethren.

Service also resulted from this answer to prayer. Peter was not delivered that he should go about the city boasting that he was too strong for Herod's jail. Nor was it merely that he might go from place to place to lecture on his unusual experience. He was set free to go about his normal life of witnessing for Christ. We are "saved to serve." The normal expression of a life in Christ should be service for Him. God delivers us from trouble, sorrow, even death, that we may serve Him.

Sunday School—10 A. M.
Worship Service—8 P. M. for Mar. 12.

There will be Sunday school next Sunday for all children who do not show positive cultures. The worship service for March 12 will be held at 8 o'clock in the evening instead of in the morning. This will be a Vesper service and Easter music will be electrically transcribed. There will also be choral singing by the Senior choir and a short message from the pastor. We invite all to come and worship with us this Sunday night.

The Aid Society had a splendid attendance at its meeting with Mrs. Cable at her home last Wednesday. Following the business session Mrs. Weber gave an interesting talk on her trip to Alaska and showed many pictures of the trip which all enjoyed. Mrs. Cable and her assistant, Mrs. Blumenschein, served refreshments. The next meeting will be held at the village hall on Wednesday afternoon, March 15, and will be a dessert luncheon card party with meeting during the afternoon. The public is invited. Mrs. Lottie Barnstable and Mrs. Anna Martin are co-hostesses.

The "quiz" contest last week between the Antioch Lions club and Lake Villa business men was very interesting. Mr. Brooks of Antioch was awarded prize for high score for the Lions club and William Weber for the Lake Villa group. This week the contest will be of a different type and the German-American club and the P. T. A. will take part. The questions will be easier, much funnier and the contest will not be as long as last week. If you thought the first four contests were funny, don't fail to hear this one.

Mrs. Frances Gallagher and baby daughter of Barrington spent Monday with her mother, Mrs. Martha Daube.

Mrs. Georgia Avery entertained the Thimble club at her home last Thursday afternoon and Mrs. Swanson and Mrs. Seeger were guests of the club.

Dorothy Meyer was the winner of the aluminum set in the Hooper drug store recent mis-spelled words contest.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Slazes and family have moved into the new home they recently completed on Grand avenue and the Brownlee family will occupy the Brompton cottage which they vacated.

Mrs. Ben Cribb was honored guest at a party at the Charles Hamlin home and received many pretty gifts to remind her of the pleasant afternoon. Mrs. Harold Cribb of Waukegan was an out-of-town guest.

Mrs. Eleanor Kunzer who has been ill at the home of her sister, Mrs. Hooper, for the past month, is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Clare Sherwood transacted business in Kenosha on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Eberler, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson and daughters, and James Leonard, Jr., and children, all of Chicago, spent Sunday with Mrs. James Leonard here.

While August Tanner was delivering his papers Monday morning, he discovered Joe Coon lying on the floor of his home, having died some time during the night, apparently of heart trouble. The inquest was held late Tuesday afternoon, but no plans had been made for the funeral at this time. Obituary later.

Business Guides

PERSONAL appearance is a very important factor in business success. The young man who is seeking employment should create a good first impression. He should remember that neatness and cleanliness are more important than the quality of material from which his garments are made. A prospective employer may not be impressed by the cut of an applicant's suit, but he will make a mental note of his general appearance.

A safe rule respecting dress for any man to follow is Lord Chesterfield's famous advice: "Be scrupulously careful of your attire, and then think no more about it." The well dressed man obtains a feeling of self-respect. If you respect yourself you can reasonably hope to command the respect of others.

Promptness is a virtue much needed in business. If you are the boss you appreciate promptness in those who work under your direction. If you are an employee you can improve your standing with your superiors by demonstrating that you attend to all matters promptly. The man who lags in his work is very likely to lag along at the bottom of the salary list.

Helped Universalism
Hosea Ballou, one of the founders of Universalism, was born in New Hampshire in 1771. He was self-educated and was expelled from his father's church on declaring his belief in the final salvation of all men. He began to preach at 21 and became minister of the Second Universalist church in Boston in which he preached over 10,000 sermons, none of which was written before delivery. He died in 1852.

CHOLERA IS ENEMY NO. 1 OF MODERN SWINE PRODUCER

There are two words which the American swine producer dreads more than all others—the words Hog Cholera. For, in spite of all modern practices and scientific methods of control, cholera still ranks as America's Number 1 swine destroyer. It strikes with-

Eventually the whole herd is down, and then it is probably too late to save them.

There is no cure for cholera. The only safeguard lies in vaccination. The best protection is the so-called "double treatment" administered by a veterinarian. This is best given about weaning time, while the pigs are young and well.

The importance of having the immunizing done by a veterinarian is due out warning, it travels swiftly from farm to farm, and it is a threat the year 'round.

The first signs of cholera which a farmer sees may be one or two hogs in a herd showing unwillingness to leave their pens. When driven out, they may have their backs humped, may shiver a bit, or show slight weakness in their back legs. Next day a few more hogs show sluggishness.

to the fact that the veterinarian can best tell if the pigs are in proper condition to be vaccinated, and through his knowledge can do an immunizing job which can be relied on.

According to statistics, there will be nearly $30,000,000 worth of hogs lost this year, through cholera. The wise farmer will take no chances with this disease, but will have his pigs immunized at the start of the season.

FARM TOPICS

HORSE OR TRACTOR EXPENSE IS SAME

Facts Brought Out in an Analysis of Records.

The average expense a crop acre for man labor, horse and machinery use on farms is practically the same for horse farms, standard tractor farms and general-purpose tractor farms.

This is one of the facts on changes in the use of farm power brought out in an analysis of records kept from 1930 to 1936 in co-operation with the department of agricultural economics, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois. A summary of the analysis is reported by P. E. Johnston, associate chief in agricultural economics, in a recent issue of Illinois Farm Economics, published by the department of agricultural economics.

Other studies indicate that farmers who continue to operate their farms with horses are more efficient in the use of horse power, it is explained. The records also indicate that the expense for man labor has been reduced only slightly by the addition of tractors. In some cases tractors have enabled operators to do a larger volume of business and in others to provide for more leisure on the part of farm workers.

Another fact brought out in the study is that farmers are using almost two fewer horses and mules a farm in 1936 than in 1926. Furthermore the percentage of farm horses more than 20 years of age is twice as high in 1936 as in 1926, but the proportion of horses less than four years of age is also higher. From 1930 to 1934 about 26 per cent of the accounting farms in central Illinois used horses only, whereas in 1936 the proportion had declined to 14 per cent.

The shift in breeding operations on farms has been related to changes in prices of farm products and of horse feeds. During the period 1930 to 1934, when the price of farm products dropped much more drastically than that of tractors, there was practically no shifting from horses to tractors on the farms included in the study. The percentage of farms operated with horses averaged about 26 per cent each year.

During this period, however, there was a shift from standard tractors to general-purpose tractors, and this shift had an effect on numbers of horses, since general-purpose tractors which are used for cultivating row crops replace more horses than do the standard type.

Sheep Drenching a Step To Stronger Lamb Crops

An important step in getting the breeding flock of sheep ready for producing next year's crop of lambs is to drench them for stomach worms, says W. E. Morris, extension animal husbandman, University farm.

"Stomach worms annually cause serious loss to sheep raisers," stresses Morris, "and now is the time to take the first step to reduce this damage. Sheepmen may ma-

Gave Month's Warning

Particularly in these days it is refreshing to look back upon the ancient Florentines, who, so far from seeking to surprise their enemies, gave them a month's warning before they drew their army up against them, by the continued tolling of a bell, named by them Mortinella.

VET, HAPPILY WED, DISCOVERS SON HE NEVER HEARD OF

Strange Story of Aftermath of World War Reads Like Fiction.

DEMOTTE, IND.—A strange story of two women, two continents, two decades and two men—one of them being the son of the other, has been revealed here and the home folks hardly know what to think.

In the first place, it is a story about Roy Odle, who went to the World War from here and came back and married. It was 18 years ago that he got married, and he and his wife have been getting along, making a comfortable living, taking part in the social life of the town. They have been like millions of other married couples in the small towns of America.

Letter From Germany.

What makes the story worth telling is a letter that Roy got from Germany. It reminded him of things. It reminded him of the time, just after the war, when he was a member of the army of occupation. It reminded him of a girl he met in Germany in those days, Anna Kuehl. It reminded him of a brief love affair with her that ended so far as he knew—when the rest of the soldiers were sent to Russia and he, having broken a leg in an accident, was sent back to America.

At home he forgot the war days, until the letter came. It was from the girl, Anna.

She told Roy that he was the father of her son. And she inclosed photographs taken at various ages, from babyhood, through childhood and into young manhood. One was of the boy in a cadet's uniform.

In any event Roy would have believed. For he knew Anna, knew she would tell the truth. But even if proof had been desired, he would have been convinced by the pictures.

The German girl, it turned out, being separated by fate from the father of her son, never had turned to any other man. She is still Anna Kuehl. And, being honest, she gave her boy the only name that was hers to give—her own name. He is Wilhelm Kuehl.

Roy read the letter twice. Then he put it in his pocket and went home to his wife. He showed it to her and she read it—twice. She looked at the pictures.

Looks Like Father.

"He looks like you, Roy," she said. "He's a fine-looking young man."

Roy had hoped—he had really known—that his wife would take it that way.

"We ought to do something about it," he said. "You know how bad things are in Germany these days."

"You are right, Roy," his wife said.

So Roy and his wife communicated with their congressman. They borrowed money from the bank. They sent the money for Wilhelm Kuehl to come to the home he never had seen. And he did cross the ocean and his father did see him—but at Ellis Island. That was as far as the immigration laws would permit. The authorities were sympathetic, but the law is hard.

Roy's son had to go back to Germany. But Roy, and Roy's wife, have not given up.

"I'm told," said Roy, "that if I can formally adopt my son it will be possible to bring him home. I'm looking into that."

"We'll manage it, Roy," his wife said.

Student House Maid Is

Razzed but Likes His Job

ALBANY, N. Y.—Being a housemaid is a swell job for a boy working his way through school, says Thorpe DeVoid, 18 years old, and a freshman at State College for Teachers. He washes, irons, cooks, dusts and mops at the home of Rev. Percival Kinkema and his wife.

"I needed board and lodging and this is the first job I heard of. I got it and I'm mighty glad of it," he says. "It certainly beats tending furnaces and lawns or jerking sodas. And when I get the supper dishes done, I have the evening to myself with time for my studies."

Thorpe can take all the kidding that comes his way.

"A lot of college girls, including some I don't know," he says, "call me up and kid about my job. Some of them have asked me to get in touch with them when I finish school."

Wife Tramps Snow S O S

To Save Stricken Trapper

EDMONTON, ALTA.—A trapper's wife tramped out a huge "HELP" in the snow beside her cabin home in the Far North and attracted a transport pilot who flew her stricken husband to Whitehorse, Yukon, for medical aid, according to reports reaching here.

Radio messages said that Pilot Sheldon Loucke had sighted unusual markings in the snow near an isolated cabin far from Whitehorse. He circled lower and saw the distress signal.

Loucke landed to find the husband was suffering from blood poisoning and took him to a hospital at Whitehorse. The reports indicated that the man, whose name was given as Nugent, would recover.

The Good Neighbor

WE HEAR much today of the "Good Neighbor" policy. One of the most encouraging signs of the progress of social justice in the world is the increasing sense of responsibility concerning the welfare of our fellow beings. Between governments and nations the "Good Neighbor" attitude should be encouraged. Community welfare campaigns often adopt the slogan, "Be a Good Neighbor." In times of disaster organized agencies spring into action to alleviate distress regardless of race, creed, or color. Men are definitely awakening from callous indifference to the sufferings of others to a desire to relieve these sad conditions and remove their causes.

In view of this awakened consciousness we may well ask ourselves, "Just what is a good neighbor?" Jesus eloquently answered this question in the parable of the good Samaritan. But it is well to remember that he prefaced his description of true neighborliness by first emphasizing the two great commandments (Luke 10:27), "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbor as thyself." Then followed his story of the man who fell among thieves and was left by the roadside in his distress, and was passed by until rescued by the Samaritan, who thus proved himself a good neighbor.

Therefore, in striving to be a good neighbor to one's fellow men one must start with love for God and man. Intelligently to love God requires a correct understanding of His nature. In the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, God is defined (P. 587) as "the great I AM; the all-knowing, all-seeing, all-acting, all-wise, all-loving, and eternal; Principle; Mind; Soul; Spirit; Life; Truth; Love; all substance, intelligence." God must be acknowledged as the only power and presence, the All of man's existence. One must turn to Him in childlike trust, confident that His law of ever-operative good is sufficient to meet every human problem. This is truly loving God supremely.

How easy it is to love the all-loving God, but how often it seems difficult to love one's neighbor when so much that is unlovable is apparent about him! But is the unlovely mortal one's real neighbor? The Bible tells us (Genesis 1:27) that man is made in God's image, and that image surely cannot contain or include a single quality not to be found in God, the original. That which seems disagreeable or discordant is no more part of the spiritual man than is mud which may be spattered by a passing car a part of the person it besmirches. Even as the mud cannot deceive us, neither should the false qualities which claim to be part of our neighbor. It is our task to separate the false from the true and to see the real reflection of God. This is truly loving our neighbor.

To love our neighbor as ourselves includes even more. To love one's own true selfhood aright is the opposite of self-love, for it requires us to separate the false qualities of thought from ourselves as well as others and to prove that we are indeed "the sons of God" (1 John 3:2). In thought and act. We must see ourselves as the spiritual, loving reflection of the all-inclusive Mind, completely controlled by divine Principle. We cannot unsee the faults of character in others and yet cherish them in ourselves. To see ourselves and others as God sees His creation, fulfills our duty to love ourselves as ourselves.

Jesus' answer in the parable to the question (Luke 10:29), "Who is my neighbor?" is as applicable today as it was then. All of God's spiritual ideas, His children, are truly neighbors. Charity should begin at home, but not end there. As we meet the common daily opportunities to be helpful which lie on every side with the cheery smile, the word of encouragement, and little services, we are proving that our neighborliness is practical. . . . But we need to broaden our boundaries by including all mankind in our friendliness. Then let our thoughts, like good Samaritans winged with spiritual power, reflect the Love which reaches beyond boundaries of community and country, and provides abundantly for His universe. Confident faith in His government among the nations will help to lift the heavy clouds of fear and oppression which threaten the peace of the world today.

One more lesson may be learned from the parable of the good Samaritan. The immediate need was met and also provision left for future care. Then let us add to our right thinking about our neighbor the assurance that God's continuous, abundant supply for His children is throughout eternity. Thus placing ourselves and our neighbors in God's care, knowing that all is well, we are truly loving God supremely and being a good neighbor.—The Christian Science Monitor.

About the Farm

The poultry business is represented on more farms the world over than any other agricultural enterprise.

Many rural communities solve the problem of fire protection by forming a fire district. They contract with nearby towns.

Protection from dampness and from drafts are the two requirements that most poultry houses fail to meet.

The most practical and lasting results of rat repression are gained through a campaign to rat-proof all buildings.

Since beef cattle require the same type of pasture as dairy cattle, similar methods of soil fertilization and grazing management should be followed.

REDUCE TIME AND LABOR ON SILAGE

Will Enable Farmer to Put Up Higher Quality.

Modern equipment and improved methods greatly reduce the burden of ensiling grasses and legumes, save time and enable the farmer to put up a higher quality silage.

Any green crop that is harvested for grass silage should go into the silo just as soon after cutting as possible. In good haying weather, not over two hours should elapse between mowing and ensiling. During cloudy or rainy weather somewhat longer time may be permissible. If the crop becomes partly dry in the field, water should be added at the silo in order to replace the lost moisture and insure a high quality silage.

In mowing the crop it is a good plan not to keep more than one-half day ahead of the needed supply. A windrow which may be attached to either a horse-drawn or a tractor mower will eliminate one field operation. The windrower works especially well on level fields, or fields that are not too rolling.

The use of modern cylinder rake bar loaders saves a great deal of labor. When selecting a loader it is well to purchase one specifically designed for green hay. They will handle dry hay as well as green hay.

Many experienced operators use square-shaped racks or dump truck bodies, and allow the hay to fall as it will from the loader, without having anyone on the load. When the green hay is hauled to the silo considerable time can be saved by dumping the load on the ground. Providing the silo filler is set in a trench or set with its wheels in the ground up to the axle, the labor of feeding the machine is greatly reduced. Standing on the ground and with the cutter lowered, two men can pitch a ton of green hay into a silo filler in 10 minutes or less.

Almost any cutter that is in good condition may be used in ensiling green crops. Modern machines with feed rolls designed for handling hay crops are easier to feed than standard ensilage cutters. The silo filler should be set for a cut of one-fourth to one-half an inch. Longer cuttings do not pack satisfactorily and may result in some spoilage.

'Silent Night'
The author of the verses "Silent Night," was Joseph Mohr, an assistant priest at Laufen, on the Salza, near Salzburg, Austria, and the music was composed by Franz Gruber, his friend, who was the schoolmaster of Arnsdorf, near Laufen.

The song was written for Christmas at the little church of Laufen in 1818. After its use there it gradually made friends until it came to be known in all Germany and in translation in many other countries.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Stalemate

It is one of the odd facts of life that often when two diametrically opposed theories come into collision, and are put to the actual test, there is victory for neither side. Thus we read of rounders and rackets living to as great an age as the most abstemious puritans. The war between the vegetarians and the meat-eaters has been going on for a long time, and where are we? Practically nowhere.—New York Herald-Tribune.

Why Cement Gets Hard

The hardening of cement is due chiefly to the decomposition of the compounds of lime upon the addition of water, resulting in the formation of calcium hydrate, which on crystallization binds together the other solid ingredients. The initial setting is due principally to the decomposition of the aluminates, while the final hardening depends more upon the action of the silicates.

Chestnut, Greek Tree

The word chestnut comes from the first home of the tree—a Greek city called Kastana, situated in that part of Greece known as the Peloponnese. The strange, beautiful tree of Kastana was planted in other countries, and gradually its name changed. The Kastana—or castana tree—became in France the chataigne, and in other countries the chestnut.

GET HIGH YIELDS IN USING HYBRIDS

Attention Must Be Paid to Soil Fertility.

Called a miracle crop by some producers, hybrid corn is not miraculous enough to produce increased yields without making increased demands on soil fertility, according to C. M. Linsley, soils extension specialist, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

As farmers start thinking of their supply of hybrid seed for the coming cropping season, Linsley suggests that some thought be given to adjustments in soil and cropping management to care for the increased drain on soil fertility made by high-yielding hybrid corn.

"The growing of hybrid corn is justified by the fact that high yields are essential to low production costs," Linsley said. "However, it is essential that there be some reduction in acreage and more attention paid to soil fertility and the use of legumes. By growing more corn on fewer acres at less cost, the land taken out of corn can very well be devoted to soil-building legume crops.

"Use of adapted hybrid corn on a reduced acreage, coupled with a sane program of mineral and organic matter replenishment fits well into the AAA farm program and the program of soil improvement that has been fostered for more than a quarter of a century by the College of Agriculture.

"There may be some difference between hybrids in the amount of minerals utilized, but miracle hybrids that can produce bumper yields without taking anything from the soil are yet to be produced. If such a hybrid should be discovered, it would have little value for feed or commercial use."

It is estimated that the 361,673,000 bushels of corn produced on Illinois farms in 1938 used up phosphorus from the soils of the state to the equivalent of 217,000 tons of rock phosphate or 4,340 carloads of 50 tons each.

In addition to the phosphorus, even larger amounts of nitrogen, potassium and lime were taken from the soil by the 1938 Illinois corn crop.

More Profit in Selling Only Infertile Eggs

By producing only infertile eggs for market, Illinois farmers have a chance to boost their poultry profits by thousands of dollars annually, according to H. H. Alp, poultry extension specialist, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

"It is almost an impossibility to market eggs of high quality when they are fertile," he said. "This is especially true during hot weather since a fertile egg will start incubation at a temperature slightly above 65 degrees Fahrenheit. Blood rings are a natural result of partial incubation in fertile eggs.

"A high percentage of fertile eggs will eventually be thrown away as rots. This loss backs up to the producer and is one of the biggest losses he suffers.

"There is only one way to eliminate fertile eggs and that is to remove all males from the laying flock immediately following the close of the breeding season."

Balanced Fertilizer

To make a balanced fertilizer, manure should be reinforced with phosphates. Experiments show that 25 to 30 pounds of 20 per cent phosphate added to each ton of manure will balance the plant food supply. Others use the lower analysis rock phosphate applying 80 to 100 pounds to a ton of manure. The manure and phosphate may be spread together at one operation. The phosphate may also be applied to the manure in the barn at the rate of one pound per day for each head of mature live stock, says A. W. Klemme, Missouri college of agriculture.

Feeding the Dairy Cow

Dairy cows have whimsies, and for that reason the palatability of Bossy's feed may mean the difference between profit and loss. This is a situation you may run up against when chaffy corn is used along with mixed dairy feed, or when moldy hay is fed, or when an inferior dairy ration is mixed with home-grown grains. In short, observes a writer in the Farm Journal, one of the primary tests of a good dairy ration is: "Does the cow like it well enough to eat all she needs?"

Minerals for Bone Growth

The growing bird needs minerals for bone growth, particularly calcium and phosphorus, about twice as much of the first as the latter, advises a poultry expert in the Rural New-Yorker. The ordinary mash will contain enough phosphorus to fill the birds requirements but for the other, calcium, a supplement to the mash is needed. This may easily be supplied to the flock by the addition of ground limestone, or oyster shells.

Finds Pin Lost in Lake for Ten Years

BATH, N. Y.—Mrs. B. O. Chapman has her diamond-set breast-pin back after losing it 10 years ago.

It was found by Frank Storm of Bradford, who, while painting a cottage near here, was attracted by a flash in Lake Lamoka near the shore.

Investigating, he discovered the long-lost pin.

PLAN TO USE SOUND FILMS AS EVIDENCE

Way Is Paved by Conviction of Drunken Driver.

DETROIT.—Its way cleared by establishment of a precedent, Detroit's police department needs only funds to launch one of the most comprehensive and accurate systems extant of obtaining convictions through presentation of sound film evidence.

Having obtained the conviction of a drunken driver, Joseph Florence, through use of a moving picture which showed him reeling and projected his voice speaking in the thick-tongued speech of the intoxicated, only an "angel" is needed to provide the funds necessary to equip properly a division devoted entirely to recording and filming evidence.

The groundwork was laid by Lieut. F. E. Broom of the accident prevention bureau.

Another great aid talking pictures would be to police cases under the head of protecting "confessions" made to police soon after crimes are committed.

"It is common for defendants to gain a not guilty verdict despite an early confession, claiming they confessed under duress," Broom said. "If we can show juries talking pictures of defendants making their confessions, pictures of which will show the condition of the defendant at the time of the confession, we will be in a good position to eliminate this type of thing.

"The defendant can't argue with his own words and actions."

The legal side of the practice of presenting filmed evidence was defended by Assistant Prosecutor Richard Nahabedian, who obtained Florence's conviction in traffic court, who said:

"The fundamental object of all testimony in the trial of a case is to re-enact or portray for the jury all the proceedings upon which action has been brought. In other words, the witness attempts to draw a word picture of the happenings, in order for the jury to 'see' what actually did transpire."

Police Hunt Murderer Among 2,000 in Hospital

LONDON.—The murder of Arthur Izzard, 34-year-old inmate of Chatham mental hospital, near Canterbury, who was robbed and beaten to death in the grounds of the asylum, is presenting a difficult problem to detectives and psychologists.

Police are seeking to find the murderer among the 2,000 inmates, while doctors are endeavoring to prevent the innocent 1,999 from being upset by the investigations. They fear that the crime might provoke other patients to homicide, should the facts of the murder become known.

Izzard, who was regarded as almost normal and soon to be released, was on his way to town to buy delicacies for his fellow inmates. He carried less than $5 in coppers and silver in a small cotton bag. This was missing when his body, the head crushed, was found in the hospital cemetery.

Patrolman Finds Time to Mold Bullets Into Toys

ST. JOSEPH, MO.—"Mold your bullets into toys" is an injunction that would seem slightly "cock-eyed" to modern dictators and war propagandists, but it is one that Patrolman Martin McNally of St. Joseph follows.

As he attends his traffic duties in the city, McNally finds time to dig into his pocket and bring out a toy soldier or other metal plaything, which he has molded for a young friend.

"You can do more good with lead this way than shooting it at some one," he said.

He gets most of his lead, which he molds at home, from the police station and the pistol range.

The recipients of his toys are youngsters of the city, rich and poor alike.

Boy Sings and Prevents Panic in British Theater

MANCHESTER, ENGLAND.—A 13-year-old boy prevented panic when fire broke out in a theater here.

Scores of women and children, half-choked with smoke, ignored the pleas of the manager that they remain seated, and fought to get out of the building.

In an attempt to stop the stampede an attendant put a record on a gramophone.

Joseph Green, 13, stood up and shouted: "Let's all join in," and he began to sing "My Bonny Lies Over the Ocean." Those crowding out stopped and sang, too.

In a few minutes the fire was out.

Largest U. S. Canal

The All-American canal is by far the largest irrigation ditch in the United States. It is 80 miles long and has an initial capacity of 15,000 cubic feet of water per second. The maximum section has a width of 232 feet at the water surface and a bottom width of 162 feet, with a water depth of 21 feet. The earth excavation amounted to approximately 65,000,000 cubic yards.

The Christian Era

The practice of reckoning the years from the supposed year of Christ's birth became the general custom in Italy, in the Sixth century. In France and England about two centuries later.

First Medlums

The modern spiritualistic movement began in this country in 1848, when members of a family named Fox in Hydesville, N. Y., reported that they heard in their house mysterious knocks which conveyed messages through an alphabet system. Kate Fox and her sister Margaret at once began interpreting messages from the spirit world and became the first medlums.

FOUNTAIN PEN'S BIOGRAPHY RIVALS ADVENTURE STORY

Tale Carries Reader Through The Many Phases of Human Emotions.

WLAUKEE.—This is the biography of a fountain pen and a tale that carries one through all the phases of "human emotions."

In the history are scenes which few people experience during the course of a lifetime. This fountain pen is the property of Henry Fuller, a member of the American College of Life Underwriters.

The close association between Fuller and his pen dated back to 1909 when Fuller acquired his prize possession in a drug store at White-water, Wis., for a penny.

No sooner had Fuller claimed ownership when the pen started on a series of wild adventures.

At the time Fuller was White-water's two miller and in 1910 when the young man delivered mail the pen was the instrument with which receipts for registered letters were signed. All went well until the winter of that year when a blizzard forced the junior mail man to trek 25 miles. Both he and the pen suffered, the mail carrier being severely frost bitten and the ink in the pen completely frozen. Both recovered.

Ten Attends Schools.

This episode past, the pen next attended various schools and no doubt aided its owner in writing untold examination papers. Both came through with flying colors and then came the war.

Fuller and pen went overseas. In France all went well until one blustery morning in September, 1918, the British, the Thirtieth division, Fuller and pen crashed the Hindenburg line.

Forty days later surgeons at the base hospital in Le Havre completed extracting shrapnel. "Pen" too had been covered with blood and glory and the two embarked on an excruciating ambulance journey from Portsmouth to London.

Rises in Estimation.

Fuller won his first lieutenant bars and the pen rose 100 per cent in its owner's estimation. The journey of the two, however, were not over and after the Armistice it was discovered that Fuller had contracted tuberculosis, so the two tarried at Fort Snelling, Minn., Prescott, Ariz., and Denver. At the hospital the pen helped its master while away many idle hours.

So much for the heroic deeds of the pen and its scholastic experience. A brighter side also was its lot for it was with the same pen that Fuller wrote the love letters to the woman who later became his wife.

Then the pen joined Fuller in a business career. In lighter moments the pen too has shone for it was used by Edgar Guest, all of the boys of the R. O. T. C. and many business leaders in signing autographs.

"I bought the pen for a penny and wouldn't sell it for a million," is Fuller's comment.

'Samaritan' Is Victimized

By Young Men He Helped

WHITEHALL, N. Y.—Clarence Kilburn, farmer and Adamsville lumberman, played the role of Good Samaritan with unsatisfactory results when he came upon a stranded automobile on the Whitehall-Fair Haven road. Kilburn stopped and found that a car, occupied by two 19-year-old Whitehall youths and two young women, was without gasoline. He carried the quartet to Whitehall to obtain a new supply.

For the young people had left the Kilburn car, Mrs. Kilburn discovered that her purse, containing $45, was missing. She complained to police and the young men were arrested.

Pleading guilty to the charge before Justice of the Peace Warner B. Nelson, the youths were given suspended sentences of 60 days each and instructed to attend church once a week. They also must report weekly to Whitehall's chief of police, Edgar C. Whalen.

The money was returned to Mrs. Kilburn by the father of one of the boys.

Crippled Man Watches

Tide Slowly Engulf Him

LONDON.—Unable to move due to a broken leg, James Noble, 60, lay on the beach at Ipswich for three hours watching an approaching tide.

Rescue came just as the water was creeping around his neck.

While throwing stones to his dog, Noble fell six feet from the dock onto the shingle when the tide was low. He had almost given up hope when his cries were heard by Frank Smith, proprietor of a riverside hotel.

Two-Pound Lobster Found In Stomach of Codfish

AUGUSTA.—A flounder dragger working off Eastport recently caught a codfish in the stomach of which was found a two-pound lobster. It is generally supposed that the claws of the lobster act as a preventive against the shellfish being swallowed by cod or other linefish. But this particular cod was extra voracious and took lobster, claws and all.

Finds His Sister—

FOSTORIA, OHIO.—Richard J. Jarford, an automobile mechanic, hadn't seen his sister, not even a picture of her, for 20 years until he opened a Toledo newspaper and saw her endorsement of a brand of oleomargarine. The sister was Miss Sally Jarrard, Los Angeles dietitian and head of school of home economics in that city.

FIVE CUT CARDS IN GAME WITH DEATH

Gamble Bared in Probating Will of Volunteer.

DETROIT.—The friendship vow of five young adventurers, two of whom lie buried in Spain, was unfolded in probate court.

Companions since childhood, they decided in 1937 to fight for the loyalists. But, mindful that some one had to provide for their parents, they could not all go to war. Hence the pledge just revealed.

Orin Feldt, recently returned from Spain, told the story in court as the $3,000 estate of Frank O. Peterson was entered for probate.

"In March, 1937," said Feldt, "we drew cards to see who would stay home and look after the old folks. Then we made out our wills."

"My brother Fred drew the low card, so we made our wills with him as beneficiary. After that we agreed that those of us who came back would all share with Fred—share and share alike."

"Of course, we all thought that we would be back. But we realized that when you go to war you never can tell."

Feldt went to Spain with Tauno Sundsten, Charles Fors and Peterson. On their arrival in the war-torn country they were parted and did not meet again during their service.

Peterson and Fors were killed. "When we got home," said Feldt, "we learned Pete's father had died and left him the $3,000. But Fred had lost Pete's will."

Judge Thomas C. Murphy admitted the testimony and awarded the heritage to Fred Feldt, who will divide it with the other survivors.

Student Earns His Way by

Letting Bugs Chew on Him

STILLWATER, OKLA.—Grazing mosquitoes on his body helps Gaines Eddy pay for his education.

Eddy is a graduate student in entomology at Oklahoma A. & M. college and is employed to determine if mosquitoes carry the germs of Anaplasma Marginalis, a blood disease of cattle.

Mosquitoes must eat while they wait to play guinea pigs for Eddy's experiments, so every three days he opens the end of a large-mouthed flask containing mosquitoes, covers it with gauze, applies it to his leg—and his guests crowd around to drink his blood.

"Mosquito bites raised a rash on me, like they do on most everybody, when I first started feeding them. But after six months or so I developed immunity," Eddy said. "Now they don't raise a bump."

Eddy is working with a species that carries yellow fever and three species that carry malaria. There is little danger of Eddy contracting any disease from the insects because they never are exposed to illness while they are allowed to feed on him.

Milker Serves as Butt

For Goat in California

SAN JOSE, CALIF.—Billegoats have all the breaks in California, according to a Milpitas dairy ranch milker. They can do all the butting they want to, but a California law which makes malicious injury to a billegoat a misdemeanor can be applied or retaliatory measures.

So discovered the Milpitas rancher, who was sentenced to one day in jail for using a pitchfork on a billegoat that had butted all the paint off both sides of his automobile.

"This is a serious offense," the court told him. "I could send you to jail for six months or fine you $500, but as the billegoat has fully recovered, I am letting you off easy this time."

Bull Is Electrocuted by

Wire From Radio Receiver

HAMILTON, ONT.—The hired man of an East Falmoro farm thought radio music might make his task of plucking chickens a bit less tiresome. He brought a radio down to the barn. The aerial wire he attached to a metal stanchion which held a prize bull in check.

Then he plugged the other wire into an electric light socket. Instead of the music he wanted, the hired man heard only the thud of a falling body. The bull died instantly, apparently a victim of electrocution.

Life Saved by Garter
NEWCASTLE, AUSTRALIA.—A woman patient who wandered away from a local hospital and was lost for 12 days still had sufficient strength when a stray dog came her way to fasten her garter around the dog's neck. The dog returned to its owner, and the next day succeeded in leading a searching party to her.

The Name George

The name George is from the Greek, and means "farmer or husbandman"—literally, "tiller of the soil." Although St. George is England's patron saint that name was uncommon in England before 1700. Since then it has been borne by six British monarchs, and has become one of the most popular names in England and America.
